

Bradley J. Rieger

Received three degrees from UToledo:

- 1983 Engineering
- 1985 Master Education
- 1993 PhD in Philosophy.

While attending the University, he played basketball for four years (won two MAC championships and competed in NCAA & NIT tournaments), was the recipient of the Scholar-Athlete Award from the Downtown Coaches Association. He also was a member of the Blue Key Honor Society. He was awarded the Distinguished Alumnus Award in 2007.

He currently is the Chief Operating Officer at Coopers-Smith Advertising (2015), after retiring as Superintendent of Sylvania Schools. Prior to that he was a special education teacher and administrator for Springfield Local Schools.

Brad has served and/or volunteered for the following organizations:

- Lourdes University, Board Member (Present)
- The Bethany House, Vice Chair
- Sylvania Area Chamber of Commerce, Board Member
- Sylvania Community Improvement Corporation, Board Member
- Sylvania Academic Excellence Foundation, Board Member
- Sylvania Schools Athletic Foundation
- Flower Hospital Cancer Center Campaign

He is a frequent presenter at conferences and has authored numerous articles in the areas of leadership, education, and organizational dynamics.

He and his wife, Laura, live in Sylvania and have two daughters.